If your student is struggling with a certain topic, is there a feature in ACT Academy that allows you to search for specific subjects?
Yes! The ACT prep class is organized by reporting category, so they can focus on one topic at a time. They can also go to the resource library to find all of the available resources (opened.com/search).
How can teachers utilize ACT Academy? How can I create a class?
Sign up as a teacher, then go to the Roster tab to invite your students. The easiest way is to give them your class code and have them sign themselves up. Then, under the Assignments tab you can assign work for them. You can assign it straight for the Resource Library, or from your Lesson Plan under the Assignments tab.

Can more than one teacher access student data at the same time?
Each class on Academy can only have one teacher. However, the Transfer Roster functionality on the Roster tab allows you to transfer ownership of a student to another teacher. Then, that new teacher can add them to their class. If the second teacher assigns any work the student has already completed in the other class, their scores will show up right away.
